

ISO 9001:2015 Transition Auditor

The introduction of the latest version of the quality management system standard ISO 9001 requires internal and external auditors to widen their focus to encompass risk-based thinking, a stronger process approach and leadership.

This 2-day CQI and IRCA certified ISO 9001:2015 Auditor Transition training course explores the standard in terms of structure, terminology and interpretation. Gaining this knowledge will enable auditors and other stakeholders to:

- understand how the emphasis of ISO 9001 has changed
- identify any change in approach necessary to competently conduct an audit against ISO 9001:2015
- implement any changes required and communicate to the organisation the implications of those changes
- meet the IRCA upgrade requirements for registered auditors

CERTIFICATES

A CQI and IRCA approved ISO 9001:2015 Transition Auditor training course.

All delegates will receive a certificate on completion.

Course ID: 17970

Who should attend?

The course is suitable for those involved at any level in the QMS audit programme of an organisation wishing to move from ISO 9001:2008 to ISO 9001:2015. These include:

- existing internal and external auditors who need to audit against ISO 9001:2015
- those involved in the internal audit programme who will be responsible for implementing the changes
- quality managers, management system practitioners and/or process owners
- qualified auditors needing to upgrade their auditor status to the new standard

CQI and IRCA recommend that delegates attending this course have an in-depth knowledge of ISO 9001:2008.

Senior managers and policy makers who would like to have an understanding of ISO 9001:2015 may care to look at our ISO 9001 Executive Briefing training course.

Key topics

Topics covered on the course include:

- differences between ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 9001:2015 – structure, terminology and interpretation
- Annex SL, the new structure for management system standards, in terms of:
 - context of the organisation, scope and objectives
 - leadership
 - planning
 - managing risk
 - support
- the audit life cycle – an auditor's approach to assessing the changes

- involvement of top management
- implications for organisations
- timeline for the transition from ISO 9001:2008 to ISO 9001:2015

Skills gained

By the end of this ISO 9001 auditor transition training course, delegates will be able to:

- assess the differences between ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 9001:2015
- communicate to others what needs to change to meet the new requirements of the standard
- plan and prepare for revisions to existing management systems and implement the necessary changes
- plan, conduct and lead an audit based on the new requirements of ISO 9001:2015

Registered auditors will also be able to upgrade their IRCA status.

Following successful completion, delegates will receive a CQI and IRCA approved ISO 9001 Transition Auditor course certificate.

The style, engagement, and delivery of the course was excellent. Without doubt one of my most enjoyable courses I have attended.

Macartney UK Ltd

The course content was easy to follow and was presented and explained well by the tutor. The exercises kept it interactive and allowed me to see how to apply the standard in the real world.

Atkins Ltd

The tutor brought the course to life with real world examples and took the time to make sure I understood the basics before moving on. The content was extremely good and helpful, well laid out and clearly written with good practice scenarios.

SGN

The tutor's depth & breadth of experience, which enabled him to provide many real-life examples of situations in the context of QMS auditing, was very helpful to compound my understanding and confidence.
